

Website design and development

Lushful was established to redefine how people consume fresh produce - making chemical-free, farm-fresh fruits and vegetables accessible while supporting local farmers. The brand bridges health, sustainability, and transparency, ensuring every order contributes to nourishing consumers, empowering farmers, and protecting the planet.

multiple iterations, usability testing, and validation, we crafted a system that aligned Lushful's visual identity with its mission of freshness, sustainability, and trust.

For Lushful, we began with an in-depth discovery and research phase lasting three weeks, focusing on understanding audience personas, purchase journeys, and SEO limitations of the previous setup.

Experience for Lushful

The design and development phase extended over one month, during which we redefined the information architecture, visual language, and user flow to create a more intuitive, performance-driven experience.
